The Knox County Purchasing Division will host the half-day forum “Business Resources through the State of Tennessee.” This is an excellent opportunity for small and large, local and regional businesses to learn the needs of the state and how to successfully register to supply products and services.

General Services Commissioner Gwendolyn Davis and the State’s Team on diversity business enterprise, economic and community development, and procurement will be in attendance to discuss business resource opportunities with the state of Tennessee. Knox County Purchasing Division is the event organizer and is supported by the Public Building Authority and the Knox Area Chamber Partnership, two key organizations with a commitment to increasing supplier diversity in East Tennessee. Continental breakfast provided and accessible parking available at lots on Locust and Cumberland. Call to register, no cost.
